

About Artist

South African born and raised photographer Leon L. Wolmarans graduated from the National College of Photography in 2004 with 4 awards in Fine Arts. In February 2005, Leon opened his photography company Six Chambers, specializing in Band & People photography. Over the years Leon has been able to photograph several of South Africa's top musicians as well as have photographed and designed for several CD covers and CD booklets. Leon's photography has been reinvented on a regular basis to keep up with current trends of a changing world, without losing his signature style of images. Leon's clients ranges from Sting Music to Schoenraad Management.